

W hat's new?

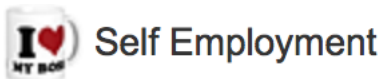

UtahFutures.org is taking us back to the UtahFutures! Behind the scene production is taking place to ensure our users can navigate and use the browser back button without being taken off course. We want users to find a steerable path both online and in life.

Back button construction is taking place in stages, and the first release deployed May 26th. Below you will find a schedule for our June releases.

“See you in the future!” – Doc Brown
